The tiers are not ordered as in those of the same color,despite being above or below those around them,are not necessarily possessing of more of my interest.

Games on this font have priority due to being what I'm currently focusing on,that being old RPGmaker games.

Colored commentary is assumed to be written by Dot or Flan. I'm probably dot/and I'm probably Flan/ We've not much of a way of confirming or denying that though. It's all just our assumption.

Feel free to comment anything regarding what's here or regarding art you'd like to mention to us!

The colors are not representative of their quality or my perceived quality of them,just how much I'm interested.

Something being here doesn't mean I'll play them at some point,just that I've some interest in it.
If a game isn't here but you think it should be,that might be because I've already got them downloaded and didn't bother putting them here. or maybe they're in my backloggery,like legion saga.

I'm currently trying out RPGmaker games that were made before 2012,but I don't mind being recommended something outside of that. I just wanna say this so that you feel encouraged to recommend me games of that era. It's not a strict rule,by the way. I don't mind anything after that,but older games take priority now.

Asian Literature

- Most literature recommended to me was western focused. Pretty much all of it, actually. So i went and searched for some asian literature, and this is what I found as of yet.
- Keep in mind that it's still under major construction.
- It's written in a different font so that all letters appear.
